

Rail line inadequacy

forest dweller <72rover@gmail.com>

Wed 1/10/2024 11:35 AM

To: Jacyn Normine <Jacyn.Normine@columbiacountyor.gov>

[You don't often get email from 72rover@gmail.com. Learn why this is important at <https://aka.ms/LearnAboutSenderIdentification> ]

Has anyone walked the rail line along the river? The passage along Green creek estuary is under mined by a deeply carved ditch. I don't see how a huge train can't and help but fall into the river. This may not relate to the proposed rail project but it surely has a community impact. I challenge the commissioners to look closely at the rail safety and think of the impact on north county residents. Go walk that line or at least drive to the estuary...it's beautiful and home to some precious birds.

Mary Duvall

Sent from my iPhone