To the Board of Commissioners and the Oregon Department of Corrections:

On behalf of the Columbia County Local Public Safety Coordinating Council and the Columbia County Department of Community Justice - Adult Division, we are pleased to present the 2013 - 2014 Community Justice Plan. The Local Public Safety Coordinating Council has reviewed the proposed plan and recommends to the Columbia County Board of Commissioners that the plan be adopted.

The document reflects traditional correction's programs in the County. Columbia County continues to move the department toward correctional practices required by the 2003 Legislative Assembly, commonly referred to as Evidence-based Practices. Officers in the department receive in-depth training in motivational interviewing, risk and needs assessment using the LS/CMI, and promoting pro-social stages of change aimed at reducing the risk of criminal recidivism. We continue to prepare for the next plan. Like many programs, the administration of corrections programs within the framework of local criminal justice is an evolving process.

Sincerely,

LOCAL PUBLIC SAFETY COORDINATING COUNCIL

MISSION STATEMENT: "To promote public safety by developing policies and procedures that create an effective criminal and juvenile system including managing the offender population through prevention, intervention and accountability."

Columbia's County's LPSCC meets bimonthly to review public safety concerns. During the last fiscal year, LPSCC reviewed and endorsed the Sheriff's Office Maximum Facility Population (matrix) system and approved the 2012 - 2013 Community Corrections Plan.

The council is committed to improving the quality of criminal justice throughout the county. Community Corrections and the County Juvenile Department have the support of LPSCC in their endeavor to train staff and implement evidence-based crime prevention programs.

COLUMBIA COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNITY JUSTICE ADULT DIVISION

MISSION STATEMENT: "Reduce criminal conduct through a partnership with communities, human services agencies, and with a continuum of supervision, incarceration, and programming to manage offender behavior."

In July, 2012, the Adult Parole & Probation Office (Community Corrections) was merged with the Columbia County Juvenile Department creating the Columbia County Department of Community Justice - Adult and Juvenile Divisions (DCJ - Adult & Juvenile Divisions). The Community Corrections Director was appointed to manage both divisions.

Columbia County Department of Community Justice - Adult Division (DCJ-Adult Division) supervises approximately 450 adult offenders on parole, post-prison supervision and probation. Columbia County is committed to a value-driven system using evidence-based practices to protect citizens, hold offenders accountable, provide effective treatment programming, and to ensure rapid responses to violations using a continuum of sanctions. Through standardized risk assessments and a specialized sex offender assessment tool, Community Corrections identifies those offenders who pose the greatest risk to the community and focuses the majority of resources and services to medium and high-risk offenders.

Corrections staff consists of a Director, six Parole & Probation Officers, of which one is the Lead PO, one Office Manager, one support staff, and one Lead Work Crew Supervisor. Temporary part-time employees are used to provide work crew supervision and support staff back-up.

DCJ - Adult Division partners with local agencies and organizations to ensure the best delivery of services within limited resources. A collaborative effort with the Circuit Court, District Attorney, Columbia County Consortium, and Columbia Community Mental Health, resulted in the formation of the Columbia County Drug Court program. By working together as a team, the agencies seek to provide a variety of programs and consistent supervision geared toward supporting and helping the offender maintain a drug-free life.

EVIDENCE BASED PRACTICE (EBP)

The Department of Community Justice - Adult Division, has developed a comprehensive evidence-based approach that includes both internal coordination of programming aimed at skill development and external coordination of programming aimed at reduction of recidivism. The plan will identify steps necessary to create, implement and maintain a system of services, supervision and sanctions resulting in positive case outcomes and documents the steps taken to achieve such results.

The department recognizes the need to train and develop staff in research-driven practice. It is intended to outline the goals and objectives of the department, and how to measure our success in the process. Senate Bill 267 requires that corrections, prevention, treatment or intervention programs are intended to reduce future criminal behavior. EBP is the term used in the corrections and treatment fields to encompass an array of practices such as behavioral interventions or motivational interviewing (MI) that have proven effective in reducing recidivism rates. Community Corrections supports a change in the professional culture of Parole and Probation to an active learning and skill building arena in which outcomes will be measured and, in turn, influence the knowledge, skills, and attitudes regarding EBP of staff, and the department itself and the larger system with which we interface. The following three areas are intended to guide our planning:

- * Program development and EBP infusion in daily department operations
- * Staff development, training, and measurement skills
- * Collaboration with community partners and effective service delivery

Within the three focus areas, we will incorporate the following principles for effective EBP interventions:

- * Access actuarial risk/needs;
- * Skills training and use cognitive behavioral treatment methods;
- * Enhance intrinsic motivation;
- * Target interventions (i.e., criminogenic risk, need, responsivity);
- * Increase positive reinforcement;
- * Engage ongoing support in natural communities;
- * Measure relevant practices; and
- * Provide measurement feedback.

SUPERVISORY AUTHORITY

The Columbia County Supervisory Authority is Sheriff Jeff Dickerson. The Supervisory Authority manages the sentenced inmate population, moving offenders between jail and other custodial programs. He is responsible for reviewing release plans, imposing conditions of supervision, and imposing sanctions including revocation. DCJ - Adult Division staff provides recommendations for post-prison supervision conditions of local control offenders via release plans. Staff also acts as liaison between alternative sanction programs.

Release planning is an integral part of the Supervisory Authority mission. Personnel involved in release planning will always consider victims when planning for the release of inmates. Inmates who are convicted of crimes of violence or person crimes such as sexual abuse, rape, domestic violence or assault must be thoroughly investigated by personnel before a release plan can be considered.

COLUMBIA COUNTY SHERIFF'S OFFICE AND JAIL

MISSION STATEMENT: "The Columbia County Sheriff is committed to working in partnership with our community to improve the quality of life in the county. The Sheriff's Office is dedicated to solving community problems, the reduction of crime, and the preservation of laws, ordinances, and the constitutional rights of all people within our jurisdiction."

The mandate of all sheriffs in Oregon is to conserve the peace in our community by: investigating violations of law and bringing the perpetrators to justice; standing guard against those who would seek to undermine the peace in the county; maintaining the county jail for detaining and correcting all those who break the peace in the county; executing all warrants and other processes of the courts or judicial officers thereof; and conducting all search and rescue efforts within the county.

It is the vision of the Columbia County Sheriff's Office to serve the citizens of the county with: effective and efficient public safety services; a safe, secure and efficient incarceration facility that contributes to a better quality of life; and reliable court and civil process services. Each employee is enabled to solve problems by taking ownership and believing they can make positive changes for the future.

All employees and volunteers with the Columbia County Sheriff's Office adhere to the following values and goals:

VALUES

- Employees are valued and empowered to do what is right.
- Citizens are served effectively and efficiently.
- The rights of all are upheld and protected.

Goals

- To protect life, liberty and property;
- To reduce criminal activity and opportunity;
- To preserve civil order; and
- To provide assistance and customer service to the community and to the public safety agencies with which we work - through education, advice, community involvement and proactive law enforcement operations.

Oregon law requires the Sheriff to operate a jail to lodge adult pre-trial and sentenced offenders. Jails do much more than simply house prisoners. The jail staff is responsible for inmate admissions, facilitating inmate movement, and transporting prisoners to other jail facilities, and often, inmates are shuttled to the local courthouse. Jail staff must cooperatively deal with problem inmates or inmate medical issues.

The Columbia County Jail has a total capacity of 255 beds with a capacity of 110 operational beds. Jail staff processes between 6,000 and 10,000 inmates throughout the year. Most Local Control offenders are required to serve 80% of their sentence before being furloughed to alternative programming. With the downsizing and closure of the state mental hospitals, many people who would be treated in a medical setting now inhabit Oregon jails. Additionally, 85% of jail inmates have drug and alcohol addictions or abuse problems and are often initially arrested while under the influence of at least one substance. This makes them a highly volatile group.

Columbia County has entered into agreements with the Federal US Marshall and US Immigration to rent jail beds that are not filled with the local inmate population. Bed rentals have helped subsidize the rising cost of operating the jail. The Columbia County jail also charges an "Inmate Housing Fee" to all offenders housed in the facility except those offenders housed in contracted rental beds.
