LOCAL PUBLIC SAFETY COUNCIL

Mission Statement: “To promote public safety by developing policies and procedures that create an effective criminal adult and juvenile system including managing the offender population through prevention, intervention and accountability.”

Columbia County’s LPSCC meets bimonthly to review public safety concerns. During the last biennium, LPSCC reviewed and endorsed the County’s jail funding levy, approved the 2013-2015 Community Justice plan, supported the Commission on Children & Families grant applications for improving school success and workforce readiness and a grant to provide funding to improve math and reading scores for at-risk youth. LPSCC also endorsed the Evidence Based Decision Making (EBDM) grant request sponsored by NIC.

The council is committed to improving the quality of criminal justice throughout the county. The Department of Community Justice, Adult & Juvenile Divisions, have the support of LPSCC in their endeavor to train staff and implement evidence-based crime prevention programs.

COLUMBIA COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNITY JUSTICE ADULT DIVISION

Mission Statement: “Reduce criminal conduct through a partnership with communities and human services agencies with a continuum of supervision, incarceration, and programming to manage offender behavior.”

Columbia County Department of Community Justice - Adult Division (DCJ-Adult Division) supervises approximately 385 adult offenders on parole, post-prison supervision and probation. Columbia County is committed to a value-driven system using evidence-based practices to protect citizens, hold offenders accountable, provide effective treatment programming, and to ensure rapid responses to violations using a continuum of sanctions. Through standardized risk assessments and a specialized sex offender assessment tool, Community Justice identifies those offenders who pose the greatest risk to the community and focuses the majority of resources and services to medium and high-risk offenders.

Community Justice Adult Division staff consists of the Director, one Adult Division Supervisor, five Parole & Probation Officers, two support staff, and one Community Services Coordinator. Three temporary part-time employees are used to provide work crew supervision.

DCJ - Adult Division partners with local agencies and organizations to ensure the best delivery of services within limited resources. A collaborative effort with the Circuit Court, District Attorney, Columbia County Consortium, and Columbia Community Mental Health, resulted in the formation of the Columbia County Drug Court program. By working together as a team, the agencies seek to provide a variety of programs and consistent supervision geared toward supporting and helping the offender maintain a drug-free life.

EVIDENCE BASED PRACTICE (EBP)

The Department of Community Justice - Adult Division, has developed a comprehensive evidence-based approach that includes both internal coordination of programming aimed at skill development and external coordination of programming aimed at reduction of recidivism. The plan will identify steps necessary to create, implement and maintain a system of services, supervision and sanctions resulting in positive outcomes and documents the steps taken to achieve such results.

The principles of EBP includes those of risk, need, and responsivity and will be incorporated into the daily practices of supervision and how they have been incorporated into the daily practices of supervision.

The principle of risk dictates that services are delivered to offenders with a higher risk to recidivate, while minimal services are provided to offenders who present a low risk to recidivate. Risk assessment is accomplished through use of the standardized and validated Oregon Case Management System Risk Assessment Tool.

The principle need determines what factors to target that are specifically related to criminal behavior. Treatment and supervision services must focus on addressing criminogenic needs and behaviors.

The principle of responsivity determines how services are best delivered and that programs are using treatment models that have demonstrated effectiveness in reducing recidivism. These models include cognitive, which focuses on how a person thinks; behavioral, which focuses on how a person behaves; and social learning theory approach, which use techniques of role modeling, practice, and reinforcement to teach new behaviors.

Thus, Parole & Probation Officers manage felony offenders who are in the community by concentrating the greatest efforts on offenders who are most likely to commit new crimes.

COLUMBIA COUNTY SHERIFF'S OFFICE AND JAIL

Mission Statement: "The Columbia County Sheriff is committed to working in partnership with our community to improve the quality of life in the county. The Sheriff's Office is dedicated to solving community problems, the reduction of crime, and the preservation of laws, ordinances, and the constitutional rights of all people within our jurisdiction."

The mandate of sheriffs in Oregon is to conserve the peace in our community by : investigating violations of law and bringing the perpetrators to justice; standing guard against those who would seek to undermine the peace in the county. The operations cover a wide variety of duties from law enforcement, to the delivery of civil papers, to maintaining and operating the jail, execution of court orders, providing safety and security to the county courthouse, organizing search and rescue operations and preparing for and coordinating responses to many public safety emergencies in the county.

Oregon law requires the Sheriff to operate a jail to lodge adult pre-trial and sentenced offenders. Jails do much more than simply house prisoners. The jail staff is responsible for inmate admissions, facilitate inmate movement, and transporting prisoners to other jail facilities, and often, inmates are shuttles to the local courthouse. Jail staff must cooperatively deal with problem inmates or inmate medical issues.

The Columbia County Jail has a total capacity of 255 beds with a capacity of 110 operational beds. Jail staff processes between 6,000 and 10,000 inmates throughout the year. The County General Fund provides only a fraction of the revenue to run the jail. For years, the sheriff has reduced the services supporting law enforcement, search and rescue, civil process services, records, concealed handgun licensing and other services in order to keep the jail in business. Still, even with these cuts to services , the county has relied on rental of county jail beds to outside agencies to keep the jail afloat.

Since 2011, cuts in the number of jail beds available for local use went from 150 in 2011 to 65. The past year, local beds were cut again, down to 25. However, with the passage of the funding Levy in May 2014, the jail has been averaging closer to 50 local inmates per day, even without a significant increase in jail staffing.

Since passage of the levy, the sheriff's office has been steadily recruiting new members and temporary hires to keep the jail going. It takes time to hire the right people and training takes time and energy of a short-staffed jail. As new hires are trained, the hope is to have new deputies hired and begin their training. There are no guarantees as to when the jail will be completely staffed but for now, the funding is no longer the problem. It will take time to replace all the experience and staffing levels that have been lost over the last few years.

Jail Operating Citizens Advisory Committee

This committee was appointed by the Board of County Commissioners to serve in an advisory capacity to the Columbia County Sheriff and to the Columbia County Board of Commissioners concerning the proper appropriation of jail levy funds for operation of the jail. The committee consists of ten members appointed by the County Board of Commissioners who serve without compensation.
