D. Proposed Organizational Structure

Based on the information provided in this proposal and any independent research conducted by your firm, state the following:

D.1. Operations Control and Oversight

How you would organize management and staff to properly control and oversee operations?

Hudson Garbage Service's approach is to continue to provide an experienced onsite team for day-to-day operations at the Transfer Station backed by regional experts who support special projects, such as recycling education, permitting, and recyclables marketing. Waste Connections embodies a decentralized approach that puts almost all decision-making authority in the hands of local staff.

Experienced Team Providing Service Excellence

The transfer station will continue to be operated by a team of highly qualified, skilled, and experienced employees with a record of service excellence. They will be led by a management team with knowledge of all facets of the transfer station operations and be supported by a regional and corporate management team comprised of industry leaders. Management positions are held by industry-credentialed and highly educated individuals.

Through the Hudson Garbage Service team's daily efforts, the transfer station will continue to achieve an excellent safety record and maintain an outstanding compliance record. Hudson Garbage Service can also draw upon many highly qualified transfer station operators located throughout Waste Connections, Inc.'s Western Region, if needed.

Industry Practices Training

Hudson Garbage Service uses current industry-standard practices in the handling and disposal of municipal solid waste, recyclables, and special waste. In addition, Hudson Garbage Service employees are trained in best management practices when dealing with solid waste, storm water management, and permit compliance. Extensive and regular training from professional societies, regulatory agencies, and educational institutions is used to improve the operational skills of staff and the performance of tasks in conducting the activities specified in the RFP.

Professional Training

All new personnel are trained by district, regional, and corporate training personnel using proven techniques. WCI has developed standardized training methods to ensure consistent training that establishes standards of practice and helps all new staff be fully prepared to "hit the ground running."

WCI has established training programs completed by local district training personnel, including comprehensive new-hire and new-position training as well as monthly training on various topics. Regional trainers regularly provide safety training. Corporate trainers provide human resources, equipment maintenance education, and additional safety training.

Ongoing professional training is an important part of employee development. Training by solid waste organizations and regulatory agencies is utilized to keep employees current in standard industry practices related to waste management.

In addition, WCI has a robust, continuous leadership training program that fosters strong interpersonal management skills and provides a framework for individual career growth at all levels of the company.

Ongoing training on the latest environmental and regulatory trends, management tools, and technical subject matter ensures WCI employees maintain a leading-edge knowledge and skill set in the solid waste industry.

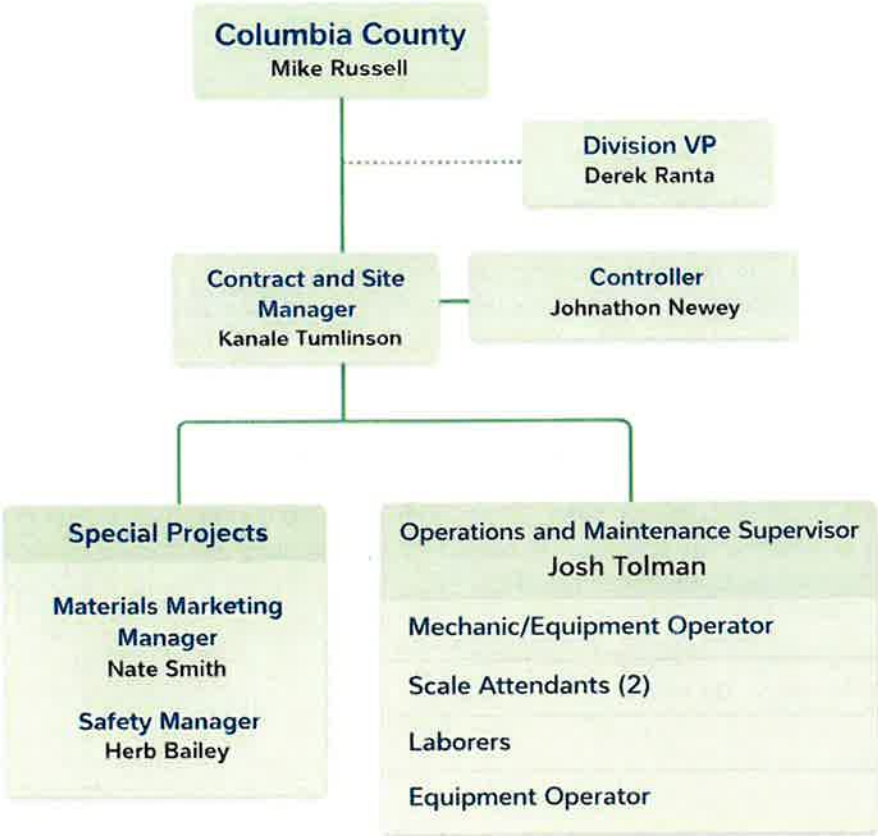

Safety Training

Safety is WCI's and Hudson Garbage Service's #1 core value. The safety of employees, customers, and the public is paramount in all of our operations. All reasonable precautions are taken to protect employees from injury and illness. We not only conduct monthly safety meetings that cover a variety of topics, but we also recognize those employees who take an active role in ensuring that safety is made a part of each operation and function of the daily work effort.

Our goal is to prevent the occurrence of all work-related injuries, illnesses, and property losses. All applicable safety regulations, codes, and accepted work practices are trained upon and followed. Each employee is informed of any hazards associated with his or her job and trained in safe work procedures, the use of personal protective equipment, and other means intended to provide required protection. Training is conducted upon hire of every new employee, prior to an employee being placed in a new position, prior to conducting different work from that to which they are accustomed, and monthly on required topics and as needed.

The safety program includes accident and injury improvement, safety meetings, safety committee meetings, incident review board, safety bonus programs, driver/operator management, reporting and safety assessments, route and work observations, spill response, regulatory training including lock-out/tag-out training, fire prevention training, medical and first aid training, heat and cold stress, accident prevention, defensive driving SMITH system training, PPE training, blood-borne pathogen training, etc.

(503) 410-5505
Kanalem@wcnx.org

Role and Responsibilities. As contract manager, Kanale will work directly with Columbia County public works director Mike Russell to establish specific requirements and expectations for operations at the facility. With input from Mr. Russell, he will manage facility and drop-off operations that support the County's recycling goals. Kanale will work directly with Hudson Garbage Service's facility operations and maintenance supervisor to ensure the County's goals for the facility are achieved. He will also work directly with the controller, WCI's regional engineer/permitting specialist, safety manager, and its materials marketing manager to confirm that these important functions are being performed as expected.

Background. Kanale has worked in the solid waste industry since 2014. He has been a manager for WCI since 2018. Kanale is currently the site manager for Hudson Garbage Service in St. Helens, Oregon, supervising more than 30 employees. St. Helens, OR 97051
(503) 679-8442

Josh.tolman@wasteconnections.com

Role and Responsibilities. Josh Tolman manages the transfer station facility operators and staff, ensuring that operational expectations are met for commodity quality, safety, and daily interaction with County personnel. Josh implements the facility safety program and operations and procedures standards. He keeps the contract manager informed of the status of operations, regulatory compliance, and other pertinent issues. Josh also coordinates shipping and receiving of commodities to ensure materials flow and storage are optimized.

Background. Josh started with Waste Connections in 2015 as a driver in the Portland Metro market. In 2021, Josh was promoted to operations supervisor at Hudson Garbage. During his tenure as a supervisor, he has gained valuable knowledge of the hauling & Transfer Station operations.

Controller; Records and Administration—Johnathon Newey

1600 SE 4th Avenue
Canby, Oregon 97013
(541) 391-3616

Johnathon.Newey@WasteConnections.com

Role and Responsibilities. As controller, Johnathon Newey oversees all tracking, reporting, and billing related to the contract. Johnathon works with Kanale Tumlinson to provide the County with real-time tracking of volumes using County-provided systems. His tracking and reporting systems facilitate compliance monitoring and provide recycling metrics for benchmarking in support of the County's diversion rate goals.

Background. Johnathon has worked in the solid waste industry since 2024 as an assistant controller for WCI. He manages all aspects of the accounting process and works closely with the operations team at two districts in Oregon. Prior to joining WCI, Johnathon worked as a senior accountant at a public accounting firm in Oregon where he worked on a wide range of engagements in multiple industries. Johnathon has five years of experience in public accounting and holds a BS in accounting from Oregon State University.

D.2. Diversion Methods and Processes

What methods and processes you would incorporate to help meet the County's goal of 32% for recycling and reuse as established by DEQ rules and regulations?

Hudson Garbage has been proud to partner with the County on the Pilot ReUse program at the transfer station and looks forward to its continued growth.

ReUse Program Manager, Lori Baker

Lori is responsible for assisting customers with unloading debris and directing traffic while evaluating reusable items on the tip floor, communicating with scale house staff and loader operators to coordinate traffic and identify reusable materials, weighing and organizing reusable items by type, labeling them with the date placed in shipping containers, and returning items to the tip floor when their storage time has expired. Additional duties include supporting the public recycling center by helping customers, maintaining a clean and organized drop-off area, performing routine inspections and maintenance on vehicles and equipment, ensuring proper care and use of all equipment and supplies, promoting continuous improvement in workplace safety and environmental practices, performing miscellaneous job-related tasks as assigned, and maintaining accurate records through weekly data entry in spreadsheets. Lori also has forklift and loader certification, as well as computer and data tracking skills.

As the current transfer station has limited space, we look forward to discussing with the County the best use of the surrounding area for possible expansion of diversion efforts, which may include an area for greater construction and demolition material sorting. This may include our partnership with Habitat for Humanity and assisting the County with education to demolition contractors on proper sorting and review by Habitat prior to demolition to see if they desire any items for salvage.

Hudson Garbage delivers all yard debris collected at the transfer station to Beaver Park for composting, a program that could be further promoted on a seasonal basis to increase diversion.

Recycling Education

Hudson Garbage Services staff will continue to work to coordinate education and outreach with County Staff and local haulers. They will leverage internal expertise with other WCI staff in the Northern Oregon/Southern Washington area to research best practices in waste reduction. Staff members will also be available to assist with school and community presentations and outreach as needed.

It is WCI's policy to design public information, education, and community involvement in a manner to change people's attitudes so that they understand the value of reducing waste and using curbside yard debris service. Toward this goal, all printed materials, programs and events developed by our waste reduction education team will be created to provide Columbia County residents with the information they need to incorporate waste reduction and recycling into their daily lives. It is important to strive for continuous improvement in all promotional efforts, so customers do not ignore or dismiss bill inserts, newsletters, mailers, community presentations, or website information.

Specialized “Did You Know?” Brochure

In Columbia County, Hudson Garbage Service provides solid waste collection service for the communities of Clatskanie, Rainier, and St. Helens, with Waste Management providing collection in Scappoose and Vernonia.

Currently, as part of Hudson Garbage Service’s collection contract with the County, mailers and informational notices are provided to Hudson’s collection customers. As part of the Transfer Station Operations contract, Hudson Garbage Service would work with the County to develop a specialized direct-mail educational brochure to Columbia County residents of Clatskanie, Rainier, and St. Helens who do not currently use collection service, but prefer to self-haul to the transfer station.

This “Did You Know?” brochure provides a side-by-side annual cost comparison of the difference between using the collection service, where the customer separates recyclables and waste into separate carts, versus dropping-off mixed waste at the transfer station.

Currently, at the Columbia County Transfer Station, a flyer is given out that breaks down pricing for services at the transfer station. Providing a “Did You Know?” brochure along with the transfer station pricing sheet helps customers understand how they can save money and time by commingling their recyclables into one cart and placing waste in a separate cart at their driveways.

Recycling “How-To” Brochure

Continued education is important in making a recycling program successful. The “How-To” flyers that are currently sent to Hudson Garbage Service customers will also be available at the transfer station.

Other Ways to Encourage Recycling

As part of enhancing recycling public education in Columbia County, Hudson Garbage Service makes more information, including the above educational brochures, available on its website.

D.3. Operational Innovations

Innovative ideas, if any your company would recommend for this transfer station operation.

Operational Approach Options

Removing Recyclables from Loads

Hudson Garbage Services' on-site team will remove wood and other recoverable material from waste loads as possible. This process could be further optimized with additional undercover space at the facility, and we look forward to discussing with the County what measures could be taken on-site to facilitate this.

Seeking Markets for Materials Not Currently Recycled

WCI's philosophy is to use domestic and local markets wherever possible. WCI will make every effort to market all materials included at the transfer station drop-off. Some materials may be marketed directly while others may be bundled at one of the company's other local facilities. For example, WCI's Pioneer Recycling facility in Clackamas, Oregon, processes and sells curbside polyethylene terephthalate (PET) from beverage bottles. WCI has also provided long-term support of other mills in Oregon, including Georgia Pacific in Toledo.

WCI's materials marketing manager for Northern Oregon and Southern Washington Nate Smith is focused on identifying reliable markets for recycling materials and is especially skilled at taking advantage of emerging markets.

Contractor Staffed HHW events

Currently Columbia County staffs quarterly HHW events on weekends at the transfer station. We will continue to use Hudson Garbage Service staff at these events at no additional cost to the County. Hudson Garbage would ensure that all employees are properly certified for the events and will work with the existing HHW procurement contractor. We will also work with County staff and meet before and after events as needed to ensure a successful collection event is achieved.

D.4. Meeting Equipment Needs

Equipment needs for this transfer station and how your company plans to provide it.

As the current operator, we currently have all equipment on-site necessary for the transfer station operations. These include:

Current transfer station equipment:
2011 Caterpillar Skid Steer #226B2
2011 Forklift
2023 Hyundai Forklift
2020 930M Bucket Loader chassis
2008 Excavator
2006 John Deere 544J Wheel Loader
2003 Yard Mule
2017 Kalmar Yard Mule

Hudson Garbage Services will provide the following equipment within the next 10 years of transfer site operations. We typically purchase equipment outright instead of leasing.

Anticipated year of replacement	Equipment
2035	Yard Goat
2030	New Loader
2027	Excavator
2034	Fork Lift
2028	Walking Floor Trailer

E. Financial Proposal

Detail your company's plan for compensation by fixed management fee for each year of a ten (10) year contract term and optional five (5) year renewal in the following format:

On each annual contract anniversary, including any anniversaries during a renewal term, starting after the initial contract year, service rates will be adjusted by the greater of 2.5% or the 100% of the annual Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers (CPI-U): Garbage and trash collection in U.S. city average, all urban consumers, not seasonally adjusted 1983=100 (series CUUR0000SEHG02) All Items. For example, if the CPI index for the previous year is 2.2%, the annual fees for the contract shall increase by 2.5% from the previous year. Contractor shall also be allowed to pass through an increase in disposal costs to County if disposal costs increase beyond the annual CPI.

In addition to the adjustment mechanisms set forth above, the Contractor may request an adjustment to the rates for service, under the following extraordinary circumstances: (i) any changes in existing, or adoption of new, federal, state, local or administrative laws, rules or regulations that result in an increase in the franchisee's costs, including but not limited to the imposition of new or the increase to existing governmental, regulatory or administrative taxes or fees; and (ii) in the event that unforeseen circumstances arise which materially affect the Contractor's costs or revenues including, but not limited to, extraordinary increases in the cost of fuel. Rate adjustments made under this section may be requested by the Contractor at any time during the course of an operating year. The County shall review and consider approval of adjustment requests under this section in its discretion; provided that such approval shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed.

Rates for services guaranteed for the first 12 months of the initial contract year (March 6, 2026 through March 5, 2027) = $1,427,094.

Rate estimates for subsequent years are provided below using 2.5% as an example percentage only. Actual rates will be determined based on CPI adjustments as detailed in this section.

In the event County closes the Transfer Station Premises due to damage, destruction or needed repair, the County shall establish an alternative drop-off location for materials normally accepted at the Transfer Station Premises. The County shall obtain any necessary permits for the alternative facility(ies) and locate such facility(ies), and Contractor shall operate such facility(ies) pursuant to the contract. If Contractor incurs additional expenses based on changes in operational factors due to a new temporary location, the County’s payment for Contractor’s increased expenses shall not be unreasonably withheld.

- Contractor takes exception to Section VI (K)(1)(f) of the sample contract. Contractor agrees to be responsible for repairs to the compactor up to $25,000.00 per year. Contractor agrees to be responsible for only routine maintenance for the scale, which shall not exceed $25,000.00 per year.

Contractor requests that additional detail and clarification be added regarding the County's responsibilities for repair and maintenance of the Transfer Station Premises, including, but not limited to, the stormwater drainage system.
- Contractor takes exception to Section XI (A) of the sample contract. Contractor requests that subparagraphs (3), (7), and (8) be deleted.
