To Whom It Concerns,
I am not going to go over the details of this issue. I'm sure you have heard objections from many people regarding the details. My thing is this; we as a society, are like a driver heading directly over a cliff and he's putting on the gas. We need to be slamming on the brakes. So please add me to the list of people who don't want our planet ruined but discussing projects like this one proposed.

Sincerely,
Andrew Park
